Welcome to Team FHC

Thank you so much for signing up to London Landmarks Half Marathon and helping us to raise vital funds to assist Frimley Health NHS Foundation Trust.

Frimley Health Charity is devoted to transforming healthcare, facilitating research, and supporting wellbeing. We will achieve this by providing funding for exceptional research, patient care projects, and staff wellbeing initiatives.

We as a charity have an important responsibility as part of the Frimley Health NHS Foundation Trust to rally people together and make the biggest impact.

Our patients will never stop needing us and with your help we can always be there for them. Your support, and every penny and every pound you raise really will make such a significant difference to both our patients, their loved ones and our amazing NHS staff for years to come!

Thank You!

Amit's story...

At just 35 years old, Amit's life changed in an instant. He suffered a significant stroke that left him unable to speak, walk, or even write. It was a terrifying and uncertain time - not only for him, but also for his family and friends who rallied around him in the days and weeks that followed.

Thankfully, Amit was cared for at Frimley Park Hospital, where he received life-saving treatment, initial consultations, and expert physiotherapy. But it wasn't just the medical care that made an impact. It was the people - the doctors, nurses, and hospital staff - who treated him with deep compassion, understanding, and respect. "The care they gave to me and my loved ones is something I will never ever forget," Amit says.

It's what inspired him to give back through fundraising, choosing to support Frimley Health Charity as a way of saying thank you - "It's well known that the NHS is hugely underfunded," he explains. "I realise that what I've raised may be a small drop in the ocean compared to what's really needed, but any contribution that helps improve hospital facilities and maintain their incredible standard of care is worthwhile."

Amit hopes that by sharing his story and raising funds, he can not only give back - but also raise awareness for the charity and inspire others to get involved. "I think all NHS staff deserve recognition. Especially after everything they've faced in recent years, they're still so often underappreciated for what they do."

Amit's story is a powerful reminder of the life-changing work happening every day within our NHS - and how community support can help ensure that continues for generations to come.
